ABSA Certificate Course

Youth Mental Health and Wellbeing

A two week course certifying Boarding House staff in Youth Mental Health and Wellbeing. Topics covered include depression, anxiety, suicide, and eating disorders, with further components focusing on the tools required for building mental wellness.

Mental ill-health in adolescents is the critical issue young people face today. This course will give a grounding in understanding common mental illnesses, while providing Boarding House Staff the opportunity to practice identifying the signs of mental distress through simulations and group conversation.

The course also shines a light on the factors that promote mental wellbeing. Through the course, Boarding House Staff are encouraged to reflect on their own mental wellness and develop a plan moving forward. This offers a powerful example for young people to see and leads to further mentoring opportunities.
